In this wide-ranging sector we create unique spaces, often on a grand scale, that stand the test of time. Quality on every level is paramount. With little repetition or inherent efficiencies, we take a lead role in ensuring project success regardless of the construction methods employed, and work closely with all parties involved to preserve the architectural vision – resulting in a place that will enrich people’s lives for generations to come.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD

Brooklyn, New York

As Construction Manager, Plaza works with the architect and engineer to transform an original 1850 building that has been unused for 50 years into a modern museum, exhibit hall and function space. A LEED Platinum project, the restoration and expansion includes four geothermal wells, solar electric water heaters, a storm water harvesting detention system and reclaimed wood flooring.

MARINER'S HARBOR PUBLIC LIBRARY

Staten Island, New York

Mariner's Harbor Public Library is an $8.4 million building inspired by the rich maritime heritage of Staten Island's Mariner's Harbor neighborhood. A single-story branch library situated on a 16,000-square foot plot, Mariner's Harbor is the thirteenth branch of the New York Public Library on Staten Island and will serve some 30,000 people. This is a LEED Silver project.

THE INTREPID VISITOR CENTER

New York, New York

In 1982 The USS Intrepid opened her doors as The Intrepid Sea, Air & Space Museum, thanks in great part to the efforts of Zachary Fisher. It is the world's largest privately owned maritime museum, and honors The Intrepid's distinguished 30+-year service record, which included tours of duty in World War II and Vietnam, as well as service in the Mercury and Gemini space programs. The visitor center serves as the entry, security gate, gift shop and food court.
